New South Wales Project Plan

NATIONAL PARTNERSHIP AGREEMENT ON HOMELESSNESS:
SCHEDULE A

PRELIMINARIES

1. This Project Plan is a schedule to the National Partnership Agreement on Homelessness (the Agreement) and should be read in conjunction with that Agreement.

TERMS OF THIS PROJECT PLAN

2. This Project Plan will commence on 1 July 2015 or when it is agreed between the Commonwealth of Australia, represented by the Minister for Social Services, and New South Wales, represented by the Minister for Family and Community Services whichever is the later, and will cease on completion or termination of the Agreement.

3. As a schedule to the Agreement, the purpose of this Project Plan is to provide the public with an indication of how frontline homelessness services are intended to be delivered and demonstrate New South Wales’s capacity to achieve the outcomes of the Agreement.

4. This Project Plan will cover the two-year period of 2015-16 to 2016-17.

5. This Project Plan may be varied in accordance with clauses 19, 45, 46 and 48 of the Agreement.
PART ONE: STRATEGIC OVERVIEW OF IMPLEMENTATION STRATEGY

<tr>
<th>1. What is the relevant context for New South Wales including any reform directions being taken to improve homelessness outcomes?</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>In February 2013, the NSW Government released the Going Home Staying Home (GHSH) Reform Plan which outlined the strategies for reforming Specialist Homelessness Services (SHS) across New South Wales (NSW).</td>
</tr>
</tbody>

GHSH builds on current good practice within the sector and the learnings from previous National Partnership Agreements on Homelessness and the evaluation of the NSW Homelessness Action Plan, to assist SHS to deliver a better balance between intervening early to prevent homelessness whilst improving crisis responses and post-crisis support.

The Reform also better targets the allocation of resources, based on need. Funding to the Department of Family and Community Services (FACS) Districts was based on a population-based Resource Allocation Model (RAM) that also took into account factors that contribute to homelessness, including socio-economic disadvantage, remoteness, age, income, overcrowding, rates of domestic violence assaults, mental health, the misuse of alcohol and other drugs and client complexity.

The Reform also better strengthened the focus on the quality of service delivered. To enable this to happen, five interrelated strategies were implemented in 2014-15 and continue to be strengthened over 2015-17:

1. Service delivery design - ensuring the right service design;
2. Streamlined access for clients - helping clients access the services they need;
3. Better planning and resource allocation - locating services where they are needed most;
4. Industry and workforce development - enabling organisations and staff to deliver the reforms; and
5. Quality, contracting and continuous improvement - ensuring ongoing improvement in quality and outcomes.

A new service delivery framework has been implemented for the NSW SHS Program which focuses on four service delivery approaches:

1. Prevention and early intervention;
2. Rapid rehousing;
3. Crisis responses; and
4. Intensive responses for complex needs clients.

The new SHS services commenced service delivery across NSW during 2014-15, implementing the new service delivery framework. Funding for the SHS is provided by the NSW Government. This includes Commonwealth contributions under the National Affordable Housing Specific Purpose Payment.

A number of complementary homelessness Programs were also implemented in 2014-15 to support and complement the SHS services and address identified gaps. These included the Homelessness Youth Assistance Program, the Service Support Fund and the Inner City Restoration Fund, which are funded under the 2015-17 NPAH.
The 2015-17 NPAH will continue to support the sustainable implementation and strengthening of the NSW homelessness service system and will:

- Enhance client service delivery within the new reformed services across NSW;
- Strengthen service delivery capacity within the service system in a period of change; and
- Support the further implementation of the reforms through the introduction of innovative service delivery approaches.

2. What frontline services or programmes will New South Wales deliver in 2015-16 to 2016-17 to meet the outcomes of the Agreement.

NSW will deliver 10 programs under this project plan which will contribute to the outcomes outlined in 10(a) of the agreement. These include:

- Homeless Youth Assistance Program – unaccompanied children and young people who are homeless, or at risk of homelessness, will be provided with integrated support and accommodation with the aim of effectively reconnecting them with their families, wider support networks or enabling them to transition to longer-term supported accommodation.

- Connect 100 – which aims to reduce the number of people accessing services in the inner city by helping them live within communities where they have a greater prospect of reconnecting with family and social networks.

- Restoration funding for inner city homelessness services – continuation of homelessness funding to the inner city in recognition of concerns that the scale and pace of the SHS reforms in the inner city of Sydney need more time to ensure the sector can fully implement strategies to tackle and reduce inner city drift.

- Service Support Fund – which funds small to medium sized non-government organisations to deliver homelessness services across NSW to support and complement the new SHS service models.

- Temporary Accommodation – people who are homeless will receive emergency accommodation and access to assistance to find long term solutions to homelessness.

- Link2home – is the new homelessness information and referral service that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week and brings together three previous homelessness phone lines into one single statewide service. It supports clients who are homeless or at risk to access the information they need, get help with accommodation and be referred to local homelessness services. Link2home has access to real time vacancy information.

- Private Rental Subsidy – assists clients who have been approved for priority status on the NSW Housing Register, have a disability and are at risk of homelessness in their current accommodation, to access a housing solution as well as support services through Specialist Homelessness Services to ensure they can sustain their tenancy and address other issues contributing to their homelessness situation.

- Start Safely Subsidy – provides assistance to people experiencing homelessness as a result of domestic and family violence to secure private rental accommodation so that they don’t have to return to the violent situation, or remain homeless. The program facilitates a rapid rehousing response while ensuring that clients are linked into Specialist Homelessness Services so they can access support to sustain their tenancy and address their homelessness needs.

- Private Rental Market Assistance – supporting clients at risk of homelessness to establish, or keep, a sustainable tenancy in the private sector. This includes brokering the establishment of individual private rental tenancies with local real estate agents and landlords, while ensuring relevant support arrangements through Specialist Homelessness Services are in place to develop tools and capabilities to sustain the tenancy and ensure they don’t fall back into homelessness or prevent them from becoming homeless.
• Staying Home Leaving Violence – supporting victims of domestic and family violence through promoting housing stability and focusing on preventing victims becoming homeless. Services funded under the program provide women with intensive case management which is long term and needs based. The Program is based on intensive case work with key agencies such as the Police, courts, health services, social housing providers and relevant non-government organisations.

3. How will New South Wales focus on the priority outputs, including where this will draw on any new or current innovative approaches?

Under this project plan, New South Wales will allocate a combined level of Commonwealth and NSW funding of more than $30 million per year towards the priority outputs 11 (a), 11 (b) and 11 (c). This does not include statewide programs such as temporary accommodation, Link2home, private rental market assistance and subsidies as these are demand driven, with clients provided assistance and referral to specialist homelessness services, when the need arises. Key programs contributing to these outputs include:

1. Output 11 (a) - support services for women and children experiencing domestic and family violence, including support to stay in their present housing where it is safe to do so.

Staying Home Leaving Violence (SHLV) – SHLV is an innovative and specialised domestic and family violence program aimed at promoting victims’ housing stability and preventing homelessness. The program helps women who have separated from a violent partner or family member (and their children) to remain safely in their own home, or another home of their choice.

Start Safely Subsidy – this program provides time limited assistance to those escaping from domestic or family violence who are homeless or at risk of homelessness, so that they don’t have to return to the violent situation or remain homeless. Clients are linked into support from Specialist Homelessness Services and other providers who specialise in domestic and family violence.

Restoration funding for inner city homelessness services – one of the eight inner city restoration services is specifically focused on providing a rapid rehousing response for women and children experiencing domestic and family violence who are homeless, or at risk. An additional two inner city restoration services are specifically for women, with one for women with complex needs and the other for women who are survivors of childhood sexual abuse. These services complement the broader response to women, including those experiencing domestic and family violence, in the inner city through the Specialist Homelessness Services and Service Support Fund services.

Service Support Fund services – there are six Service Support Fund (SSF) services that have a specific response for women and children experiencing domestic and family violence, including:

- the Aboriginal Women and Children Crisis Service in the Sydney District which operates a refuge for homeless Aboriginal women and children experiencing domestic violence, and also provides support services for women engaged in the court system; and
- the Domestic Violence Non English Speaking Background (NESB) Project in the Western Sydney District which delivers case management support for women and children experiencing domestic violence from a culturally and linguistically diverse (CALD) background.

An additional four SSF services are specifically for homeless, or at risk, women with specialised responses for mental health and complex clients, drug and alcohol, asylum seekers and women exiting custody.
The SSF services complement the broader Specialist Homelessness Services response to homeless or at risk women in NSW, including those experiencing domestic and family violence.

In addition to the above programs which deliver specific support services for women and children experiencing domestic and family violence, the Temporary Accommodation, Link2home, Private Rental Subsidy and Private Rental Market Assistance programs also support this client group. These services are demand driven, with clients provided assistance when the need arises.

In 2013-14 (note 2014-15 data was not available at the time of developing the project plan)

- 45% of clients supported under the Temporary Accommodation Program were women
- 67% of clients supported under the Private Rental Market Assistance Program were women.

In 2014-15, 45% of clients supported through Link2home were women.

2. Output 11 (b) - support services to young people aged 16 to 24 years who are homeless or at risk of homelessness to re-engage with their family where it is safe to do so, and maintain stable accommodation; and

Output 11 (c) - support services for children aged 12 to 15 who are homeless or at risk of homelessness.

Restoration funding for inner city homelessness services – two of the eight inner city restoration services include a response for young people:

- The Inner City Sydney Homelessness Service (The Salvation Army) continues to provide crisis beds at 2013-14 levels, while a staged approach to the redistribution of congregate crisis accommodation is undertaken. It provides prevention and early intervention, rapid re-housing, crisis and transition responses and intensive responses for clients with complex needs.
- The Inner City Sydney Homelessness Service (Mission Australia) provides support to young people through:
  - The Crossing – a long-term intensive case management service for young people, aged 18-25 years, who are homeless, or at risk of homelessness, and finding it difficult to access other support services. The service also supports young people with complex issues, multiple needs and/or challenging behaviours; and
  - The Shopfront legal service - a free legal service for homeless and disadvantaged young people aged 25 and under.

Service Support Fund services – there are nine Service Support Fund (SSF) services that have a specific response for young people, including:

- St Laurence Youth Services which provides transitional accommodation and support for 15–18 year olds leaving crisis care in the eastern suburbs of Sydney, as well as support programs for 18–24 year olds who are homeless, but may be accommodated in other services.
- The Helping Hand service which provides specialist support services to young people 16 years of age and over who are homeless or at imminent risk of becoming homeless in the St George and Sutherland Local Government Areas. Priority clients are Aboriginal people and people from culturally and linguistically diverse backgrounds, including refugees and newly arrived migrants.

The SSF services complement the broader Specialist Homelessness Services response to young people in NSW.
The Homelessness Youth Assistance Program (HYAP) funds service providers to deliver targeted service responses for unaccompanied children and young people aged 12 to 15 who are homeless, or at risk of homelessness.

- HYAP is being developed and implemented through a two-staged approach.
- Stage One allocated funds to selected providers to deliver improved service responses for unaccompanied children and young people who are homeless or at-risk of homelessness.
- Stage Two will build on learnings from Stage One and has involved Department of Family and Community Services (FACS) Districts leading collaborative planning and service design processes. Stage Two funding will be allocated to service providers following a contestable procurement process scheduled to commence in August 2015.
- HYAP complements the range of non-statutory responses funded or delivered by FACS to support vulnerable children and young people under 16 years of age.

In addition to the above Programs which deliver specific support services for young people, the Temporary Accommodation, Link2home, Private Rental Subsidy and Private Rental Market Assistance Programs also support this client group. These services are demand driven with assistance when the need arises.

In 2013-14:
- 22% of clients supported under the Temporary Accommodation Program were young people under 25 years of age
- 20% of clients supported under the Private Rental Market Assistance Program were young people under 25 years of age
- 4% of clients supported under the Private Rental Subsidy Program were young people under 25 years of age

In 2014-15, 25% of clients supported through Link2home were young people.

4. Which geographical area(s) will New South Wales prioritise in 2015-16 and 2016-17 when considering expenditure on the priority outputs listed at clause 11(a), 11(b) and 11(c) of the Agreement, and what services are being provided to these areas?

The NSW Government uses a range of methodologies to allocate expenditure towards targeted service responses for vulnerable client groups. The NPAH funding is being invested to meet service needs across the State and to complement services that are funded from other sources.

Below are examples of how expenditure is allocated towards the priority outputs listed at clause 11(a), 11(b) and 11(c) in particular geographical areas of NSW for the programs which form part of the 2015-17 National Partnership Agreement on Homelessness:

Homelessness Youth Assistance Program

HYAP funding has been distributed to FACS Districts via a Resource Allocation Model (RAM) that considers both need and demand factors. Due to the unique nature of the client group, both homelessness and child protection data sets were used in the RAM. The three components to the RAM were:

- 12-15 year olds that received assistance from Specialist Homelessness Service (SHS) providers in 2012-13 (30%);
- 12-15 year olds that were reported at Risk of Significant Harm (ROSH), where homelessness was one of the reported issues (30%); and
- Base allocation to all Districts (40%).
This approach to allocating HYAP funding ensured it was weighted proportionally to those areas of NSW where need and demand is greatest, whilst also ensuring the specific geographic challenges faced by regional, rural and remote areas were acknowledged.

Staying Home Leaving Violence Program

The methodology for selecting the SHLV locations included:

- analysis of the rates of Domestic Violence related assaults - numbers of Apprehended Domestic Violence Orders (ADVO); Breaches of ADVOs; Aboriginal population rates; and areas showing a significant increase in rates of domestic violence;
- consideration of existing local infrastructure capacity to support the program including presence of other domestic violence services; and
- consultation with FACS Districts and government partners on the proposed locations.

Service Support Fund services were designed to complement the SHS and fill known gaps across the state, including services targeted at domestic and family violence and youth. The Inner City Restoration services ensure that homeless or at risk clients continue to receive services in the City of Sydney to allow a progressive implementation of strategies to tackle inner city drift (including Connect 100 which supports homeless people to stay in or near their local communities), and increased access to services in regional areas created through funding increases under the Reform.

Start Safely specifically supports clients escaping from domestic or family violence that are homeless or at risk, on a demand and need basis across the State. The Temporary Accommodation, Link2home, Private Rental Subsidy and Private Rental Market Assistance Programs also support clients across the State based on demand and need. This includes homeless or at risk clients escaping domestic and family violence and youth.

Examples of how NPAH funds are spent across NSW to support the priority outputs are:

Sydney and South Eastern Sydney Districts
The Sydney and South Eastern Sydney Districts include the Local Government Areas of Rockdale, Kogarah, Botany Bay, Randwick, Hurstville, Waverley, Sutherland Shire, Woollahra, Lord Howe Island, Sydney, Canterbury, Marrickville, Strathfield, Ashfield, Burwood, Leichhardt, Canada Bay.

Sydney and South Eastern Sydney have a diverse population in a range of highly urbanised areas and significant pockets of disadvantage as well as areas of high economic status. There is an ongoing drift of homelessness from the western parts of Sydney to the inner city and rough sleeping continues to be a focus of homelessness levels in the inner city.

The 2011 ABS Census shows that there were 9,569 homeless people in Sydney and South Eastern Sydney which represented 34% of the total homeless population in NSW on the Census night. The District overall experience significant numbers of domestic violence incidents with 2949 domestic violence-related Apprehended Violence Orders issued by the NSW Courts in 2013 (source: NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research).

The NPAH maintains services in the inner city, to allow a staged approach to tackling inner city drift. The NPAH also funds a significant homelessness response in these Districts, particularly for young people and clients experiencing domestic and family violence, including:
Targeted Domestic and Family Violence services
- Staying Home Leaving Violence - Eastern Sydney
- Staying Home Leaving Violence - Redfern
- Service Support Fund - Aboriginal Women and Children Crisis Service
- Service Support Fund - Moving Forward (women’s only service that includes a DFV component)
- Inner City Rapid Rehousing Response for Women Experiencing Domestic/Family Violence
- Provision of rental subsidy for people escaping domestic and family violence (Start Safely Subsidy Program)

Targeted youth services
- Support for unaccompanied Homeless Children and Young People under 16 years (HYAP) – Sydney District
- Support for unaccompanied Homeless Children and Young People under 16 years (HYAP) – South Eastern Sydney District

- Inner City Sydney Homelessness Extended Service (The Salvation Army - a cross target service that supports youth clients)
- Service Support Fund - St Laurence Youth Services
- Service Support Fund - Sustainable Tenancy Support Program
- Service Support Fund - Helping Hand (a cross target service that supports youth clients)
- Service Support Fund - Innari (a cross target service that supports youth clients)

Other services which respond to DFV and Youth on a demand basis
- New Housing & Support for Homeless People who drift into the Inner City (Connect 100)
- Private Rental Market Assistance
- Private Rental Subsidy
- Temporary Accommodation
- Link2home

Western Sydney District
The Western Sydney District includes the Local Government Areas of Blacktown, Holroyd, Parramatta, Auburn and The Hills Shire. In the 2011 ABS Census, just over 786,000 people (or 11%) of NSW residents lived in Western Sydney.

The District is home to the largest urban Aboriginal population in the state, with a total Aboriginal population for the District of 11,504. Western Sydney is also one of the most culturally diverse districts in the State, with almost 35 per cent of the population reported as being born overseas in the 2011 Census.

Western Sydney has high levels of homelessness and high demand and competition for the available affordable private rental options. There is a concentration of public housing properties on large housing estates. The 2011 ABS Census shows that there were 3,516 homeless people in Western Sydney which represented 12% of the total homeless population in NSW on the Census night.

The District overall experiences significant numbers of domestic violence incidents, with 2,768 domestic violence-related Apprehended Violence Orders issued by the NSW Courts in 2013 (source: NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research).
The NPAH funds a significant homelessness response for young people and clients experiencing domestic and family violence in the Western Sydney District, including:

Targeted Domestic and Family Violence services
- Staying Home Leaving Violence – Blacktown
- Staying Home Leaving Violence – Holroyd
- Staying Home Leaving Violence – Parramatta
- Service Support Fund – Domestic Violence NESB Project
- Provision of rental subsidy for people escaping domestic and family violence (Start Safely Subsidy Program)

Targeted youth services
- Support for unaccompanied Homeless Children and Young People under 16 years (HYAP) – Western Sydney District

Other services which respond to DFV and Youth on a demand basis
- Private Rental Market Assistance
- Private Rental Subsidy
- Temporary Accommodation
- Link2home

Western NSW District
The Western NSW District includes the Local Government Areas of Bourke, Walgett, Coonamble, Bogan, Wellington, Gilgandra, Lachlan, Forbes, Dubbo, Cobar, Narromine, Orange, Parkes, Bathurst Regional, Cowra, Mid-Western Regional, Warrumbungle Shire, Cabonne, Oberon, Blayney, Weddin, Brewarrina and Warren.

The District includes some of the state’s most diverse and remote communities. The area comprises more than half of NSW in land area, however the population is only around 4% of the total population in NSW. The dispersion and remoteness of a population impact on the cost of delivering homelessness services, and the small size and remoteness of some of the towns in the district from regional centres presents challenges for the delivery of effective social services.

The 2011 Census data indicates that the total Aboriginal population for Western NSW is 25,021. Communities with significant Aboriginal population include Walgett (69%), Coonamble (45%), Brewarrina (40%), and Bourke (33%).

The 2011 ABS Census shows that there were 676 homeless people in Western NSW which represented 2% of the total homeless population in NSW on the Census night. The District overall experiences significant numbers of domestic violence incidents, with 1,828 domestic violence-related Apprehended Violence Orders issued by the NSW Courts in 2013 (source: NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research).

The NPAH funds a significant homelessness response for young people and clients experiencing domestic and family violence in the Western NSW District, including:

Targeted Domestic and Family Violence services
- Staying Home Leaving Violence – Dubbo
- Provision of rental subsidy for people escaping domestic and family violence (Start Safely Subsidy Program)
Targeted youth services
• Support for unaccompanied Homeless Children and Young People under 16 years (HYAP) – Western NSW District

Other services which respond to DFV and Youth on a demand basis
• Private Rental Market Assistance
• Private Rental Subsidy
• Temporary Accommodation
• Link2home

Central Coast District
The Central Coast District includes the Local Government Areas of Wyong and Gosford.

The 2011 ABS Census shows there were 768 homeless people in Central Coast, which represented 3% of the total homeless population in NSW on the Census night. The rate of domestic violence related assault varies throughout the District, with a much higher rate of assault in Wyong. The District overall experiences significant numbers of domestic violence incidents, with 1,050 domestic violence-related Apprehended Violence Orders issued by the NSW Courts in 2013 (source: NSW Bureau of Crime Statistics and Research).

The NPAH funds a significant homelessness response for young people and clients experiencing domestic and family violence in the Central Coast District:

Targeted domestic and family violence services
• Staying Home Leaving Violence - Gosford
• Staying Home Leaving Violence - Wyong
• Provision of rental subsidy for people escaping domestic and family violence (Start Safely Subsidy Program)

Targeted youth services
• Support for unaccompanied Homeless Children and Young People under 16 years (HYAP) – Central Coast District

Other services which respond to DFV and Youth on a demand basis
• Private Rental Market Assistance
• Private Rental Subsidy
• Temporary Accommodation
• Link2home

5. Broadly, what level of total matched funding does New South Wales expect to allocate to domestic and family violence, and youth homelessness in 2015-16 and 2016-17?

In 2015-16 the level of total Commonwealth and State funding allocated to DFV and youth is $30,918,687 or 47% of the total pool of 2015-16 funding. This includes $17,979,785 or 28% of the total pool for DFV and $12,938,903 or 20% of the total pool for youth homelessness. The amounts attributed to DFV and youth do not include statewide programs, such as Temporary Accommodation, Link2home.

In 2016-17 the level of total Commonwealth and State funding allocated to DFV and youth is $33,229,925 or 48% of the total pool of 2016-17 funding. This includes $18,179,785 or 28% of the total pool for DFV and $13,050,141 or 20% of the total pool for youth homelessness. The amounts attributed to DFV and youth do not include statewide programs, such as Temporary Accommodation.

<tr>
<td>40 New Housing &amp; Support for Homeless People who drift into the Inner City (Connect 100)</td>
<td>Connect 100’s objective is to help reduce the number of homeless people who access services in the inner city by helping them stay in or near their communities where they have a greater prospect of reconnecting with family or social networks if safe and appropriate, and where accommodation may be cheaper. Connection will provide services to homeless people through private rental accommodation leased and managed by community housing providers in suburban and regional locations, and support by specialist homelessness services and other support services as required. The Program is demand-driven, with funding delivered to Community Housing Providers which are part of the Housing Pathways Program, who in turn purchase support services from SHS.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>41 Staying Home Leaving Violence Program</td>
<td>The Staying Home Leaving Violence program is a specialised domestic and family violence program aimed at promoting victims’ housing stability and preventing homelessness. The service works closely with key agencies such as the Police, Local Courts, Women’s Domestic Violence Court Assistance Services, Health Services, Housing, Local Non-Government organisations and Family and Community Services to ensure clients receive the support services they need to aid recovery. Support services range from practical assistance such as installing security measures in their homes and help with financial, legal and personal problems.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>42 District Implementation, Reform Consolidation and Program Management</td>
<td>Critical to the implementation of the new homelessness services system in NSW, including the NPAH Funded Programs, has been the establishment of District Homelessness Implementation Groups (DHIGs), which are comprised of key specialist homelessness NGOs service providers as well as other key NGOs and government agencies within the homelessness service system. Funded positions support these critical governance structures as well as play an active service role in coordinating and collaborating with providers to strengthen service models and referral pathways, achieve service delivery improvements, consolidate links between relevant providers and government agencies to drive system-wide change to prevent and reduce homelessness at a local level, based on local need.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>43 Start Safely</td>
<td>Start Safely provides targeted assistance to people experiencing homelessness as a result of domestic and family violence (DFV) to access financial assistance to secure a housing solution through Community Housing Provider or the private market so that they don’t have to return to the violent situation, or remain homeless. The subsidy facilitates a rapid rehousing response for these clients and while ensuring that clients are linked into Specialist Homelessness Services so they can access support to sustain their tenancy and address their homelessness needs.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>44 Private Rental Market Assistance</td>
<td>Private Rental Specialists work intensively with eligible clients, including homeless and at risk clients, to develop and enhance their capacity to access the private rental market and sustain a private rental tenancy. This includes brokering the establishment of individual private rental tenancies with local real estate agents and landlords, while ensuring relevant support arrangements through Specialist Homelessness Services are in place to develop tools and capabilities to sustain the tenancy and ensure they don’t fall back into homelessness or prevent them from becoming homeless.</td>

Temporary Accommodation

Temporary Accommodation is an essential element of the homelessness service system, providing emergency accommodation for people who have nowhere safe to stay by providing a service which is available 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, every day of the year. Temporary Accommodation provides an important entry point for the homeless and people at risk of homelessness to enter the service system and access support from Specialist Homelessness Services to find a long term solution to their homelessness. NPAH funding supports clients in need of temporary emergency accommodation who are referred by Link2home.

Private Rental Subsidy

Private Rental Subsidy provides a medium-term solution to assist clients who have a disability and have been approved for priority status on the NSW Housing Register, have a disability and are at risk in their current accommodation to access affordable accommodation in the private market while waiting for a suitable social housing property to become available. The subsidy is an important contribution to preventing homelessness by enabling highly vulnerable clients to access a housing solution through Community Housing Provider or the private market, as well as support services through Specialist Homelessness Services to ensure they can sustain their tenancy and address other issues contributing to their homelessness situation.

Link2home

Link2home provides an efficient way for people who are homeless or at risk of homelessness to get information and referrals for the right service at the right time. The Link2home service is a single, statewide telephone number that provides a convenient gateway to information and referrals to specialist homelessness services and the broader homeless service system, 24 hours a day 7 days a week. Through the service, clients’ needs are assessed and referrals facilitated to the most appropriate service response. It provides general information about homelessness services, and undertakes communication and stakeholder engagement activities to improve referral relationships and promote awareness of the service.

*Please note: Address and service coverage area, and NPAH funding information columns (including funding allocated to priority outputs) will not be made publicly available.

Notes
Ref 39: Specific providers for the HYAP programme from 2016 will be determined through HYAP Stage 2 procurement.
Expected reports, reviews or evaluations

In accordance with clause 30(a) and 31 of the Agreement, a final update is to be provided to the Commonwealth based on the monitoring and assessment of progress against this Project Plan, and any evaluations and reviews of services and outputs delivered. Details of any expected reports, reviews or evaluations of initiatives are to be listed in Table 3.
